Dedication

We, the Class of January 1945, with deep affection and loyalty, dedicate this book of memories to our "Lady on the Hill."

Alma Mater

*High above the busy city,
Far beyond all touch of ill,
Sits enthroned our Alma Mater,
Our dear Lady on the Hill.*

CHORUS

*Lift the chorus, send it swelling,
With a real and loyal will,
And our bounty be the beauty
Of our Lady on the Hill.*

*In the glory of the morning
Burns in lines of liquid gold,
Every upward pointing tower
Like some battlement of old.*

*Face we boldly every crisis,
Love the need of duty done,
As our pillared Alma Mater
Boldly fronts the rising sun.*

*Hope of youth and pride of manhood,
Standing steadfast, strong and sure
Guide us onward, ever upward,
Heritage of rich and poor.*

Stanton A. Ralston
Principal

*"Was ever master yet so mild
As he, and so untamable?
We doubted, even when he smiled."*

Henry A. McCracken

Assistant to Principal

*"So with faces lit with delight
And all gratitude, we stay
Yet to press your hand and say
Thanks,—So fine a time! Good night."*

To Our Lady on the Hill

• As, in parting, we see your towers etched against the cloudless sky, we pause amid a flood of memories—nostalgia for the first time. We are happy, yet there is something about you that we will miss. Tomorrow, no seven a.m. alarm, no hurried breakfast, no hustle and bustle of leaving at your call, no homework, no exams—none of those servitudes to which we have become accustomed. Yet, we will miss it all. You have been our shelter and our refuge. We have always felt that we could come to you in need. Now—are we leaving of our own accord or are we being thrust out? We are not sure we like it in spite of the freedom now at hand. One chapter in our lives has closed like the banging of a door and the lock has snapped shut. Shall we throw away the key? We don't need it any more—yet we feel safety in clutching it close to our hearts.

Thoughts of the past few years flood over us taking us back through our stay with you. What a jump from Freshman to Seniors and this day! What has happened to us? What did you do to us? In no one place and at no one time can we set the date. We are different. We feel that we have gained that intangible something in our association with you which distinguishes us as young men and women from those freshmen—was it so long ago? We are still at the half way mark between adolescence and maturity with that same conflict between doubt and certainty of our ability to face that which is in store for us.

We must tear ourselves away to keep back the tears from our smiling anticipation of the morrow. We must go on our way.

Central—hail, and farewell!

"Yet he was kind, or, if severe in aught,
The love he bore to learning was in fault."

Mr. Charles Mumma

● It was thirty years ago that Mr. Charles Mumma entered our school. He was burdened with the task of offering the facilities of the Commercial course to a public who knew little of this field.

Today this course is a credit to his fine standards. It has assisted us in earning a livelihood as well as a cultural education.

Mr. Mumma has retired to his farm in Pennsylvania leaving others to carry on the work which he, as a pioneer, brought to our "Lady on the Hill."

Dr. R. A. Laslett Smith

● Just one short term ago, our organ rumblingly bellowed every morning; a spare figure swayed before it, as if in tune with the very vibrations of the instrument.

Dr. R. A. Laslett Smith was truly a native of Central and a pioneer of our music department. He was the pulse in every musical program, and without him, it would have seemed, indeed, like a heart without its beat. "Doc" was born in England and came to Central in 1912.

His every effort went into the purchasing of a school organ, and well do we remember with what affection he touched it.

Bach fugues resounded through the whole of the building—steno classes stopped to listen to a familiar strain and chem students raised their heads from microscopes. EVERYONE listened to Doc's music. As an organist, he had no peer. The "Lost Chord" truly sounded like the "Grand Amen" under his hands.

Then Dr. Smith resigned last June and went to a new position in North Carolina. A man in his seventies, his motto was, "I'd rather wear away than rust away,"—his whole personality is contained in that phrase.

We wished him our best with wet eyes and, above all else, we will miss his celestial send-off at graduation time.

Isaac R. Stout

● Mr. Stout came originally from Ohio; took his training, and began teaching in Louisville, Kentucky. He stayed there until about 1914. About ten years later Mr. Stout came to teach at Central. His three major subjects were Salesmanship, History of Commerce, and Commercial Law. Mr. Stout stayed with us until June, 1944, when he retired—a period of over 20 years at Central.

Since he began his retirement he has spent some time back in Ohio, he has visited his daughter in Chicago, and this winter he plans to go South. After that, he says he doesn't know just what he will do. But whatever he does, wherever he goes, the spirit of Central will be there wishing him all the happiness and luck possible.

Arthur Wakefield

● Completing over thirty years of teaching, Mr. Wakefield retired last June. He was a bulwark in the English Department. How well can we, who came under his guiding hand, remember the patient and persistent man who gave us so much aid in overcoming our grammatical errors. Let us especially remember him for his patriotism. We pay him tribute and wish him many years of well earned rest.

"Wings for the angels, but feet for men!
We may borrow the wings to find the way—
We may hope, and resolve, and aspire, and pray:
But our feet must rise, or we fall again."

To The Graduates

• When you entered high school, four years ago, graduation doubtless seemed far off; but now, looking back, you wonder how the years could have gone by so quickly.

I sincerely hope your years in Central have been happy years. I hope you have learned many things which will make life richer and more worth while for you.

When you leave Central you carry with you our best wishes for your future success and happiness.

The Key

- Among the most significant traditions of our Alma Mater is the presentation of the key on Class Day by the 4A President to the President of the 4B Class.

How proud we were the day Edmund Malavarca accepted this symbol from Stanley Klosowski, on behalf of the Jans of '45. Eagerly we looked forward to unlocking the invisible door beyond which stretched the treasured days of graduation term.

As our class shield takes its place of honor, it is our sincere hope that our successors will have as many fond memories as we enjoy.

"We'll rally around the flagpole,
Rally once again
Shouting the battle cry of Central."

It Could Happen to You

I

"Junior, Junior, Junior, time for school."

"Aw right, Ma, school, huh! Today I could be playing ball—hey, holy gee! Gosh! Today is my first day at high school; a freshman at Central High. I'm really getting up in this world. Oh well, I guess I'm just good!"

"Junior! Junior! Junior! Hurry and have your breakfast."

"But Ma, I ain't hungry, besides I want to be in school early. Slam-bang!"

"Now what's come over that boy of mine?"

"Hey Joe, come on, yuh going to school? Hurry up, we'll get there early and maybe flirt with some of the girls. Man, I heard they were beauts. Say Joe, look at that school, some front—on the girls."

"Hey Joe, watch this"—"Tweet! Tweet! Say beautiful what's your name?"

"Fresh thing! Hmm—a freshman. Scat freshies. Leave us Juniors alone."

"Hey didn't you hear? 'Zey vant to be alone.' Come on, you'll have girls in your classes in about two years—in your Junior year."

"Boy, what a job getting that schedule."

"Where in the world is Room 402?"

"Hey freshie, looking for something?"

"Yeh, Room 402."

"Oh! In Central the large numbers start in the basement,—Yeah, that's right, down those stairs."

"Girls, look! another freshman."

"Hey freshie, I bet some senior got you into the girls' lockers. Well, anyway, you want to be the first to do something big, well listen to this. Buzz—Buzz."

II

"Boy what a cinch that first year was."

"I hope I have an easy schedule this year."

"I hope I don't get Mr. Nester for Algebra, they warned me of him. Boy, is he tough."

"I wonder what period I'll have lunch."

"I'll betcha someone in the office changed my schedule so I won't be with my friends. That's just like them, and it's some girl that does it too."

"Say, speaking of girls, there goes that senior girl that caught me in the lockers last year. Imagine me a fool enough to fall for the line that I could get my locker right next to a girl's locker, and even have a girl for a locker partner! Boy! And they clipped me fifty cents for it too! If I only had that girl here, what a throttling I'd give her."

"Well, I guess I'll go to class."

III

"Oooooooooow! Oh boy. Girls in my classes now. Here he is you lucky girls!"

"Oh! I'll never go out with girls now with this schedule. Is it tough!"

"I got Mr. Vogelin for physics! Now I'm sunk for sure, oh—"

"Boy, if it weren't for that little blonde helping me in English I'd flunk for sure."

"Say blondie, uh, there's something I'd like to ask you."

"Yes, what is it?"

"Well, uh! Will you go to the 4B, 4A prom with me?—You will! Oh, boy! Yippee! I'll pick you up at eight."

"Watch me be the life of the dance!"

"Say, I saw you at the dance last night and you looked kinda bashful. Is Blondie sore at you? She had to drag you out on to the dance floor."

"Blondie, you're not angry with me, are you? But I didn't do anything. Ah, all right, be sore."

"Say, don't you and Blondie go together any more?"

"Listen Joe, I can't figure girls out. She is going out with somebody else now, I don't get it, I thought she liked me."

"Since the world started man's been trying to figure out the female."

"I guess you're right Joe, here I was so anxious to have girls in my classes, but not any more. I'm off of them for good."

"Imagine next term, a senior! I can't wait for that. We seniors will own this school. Just wait until I get some freshies."

IV

"A senior already. Those were the fastest four years I ever lived through."

"Look at my schedule. It's a cinch."

"I have English in Room 405. I wonder if it is Mr. Rowan?"

"He's a pretty right fellow, I heard. But likes his poetry a little too much."

"Look at that brunette in English. I'm gonna get to know her."

"What is your name? That's a pretty name. You're the first girl I liked in all my English Classes. Will see you tomorrow."

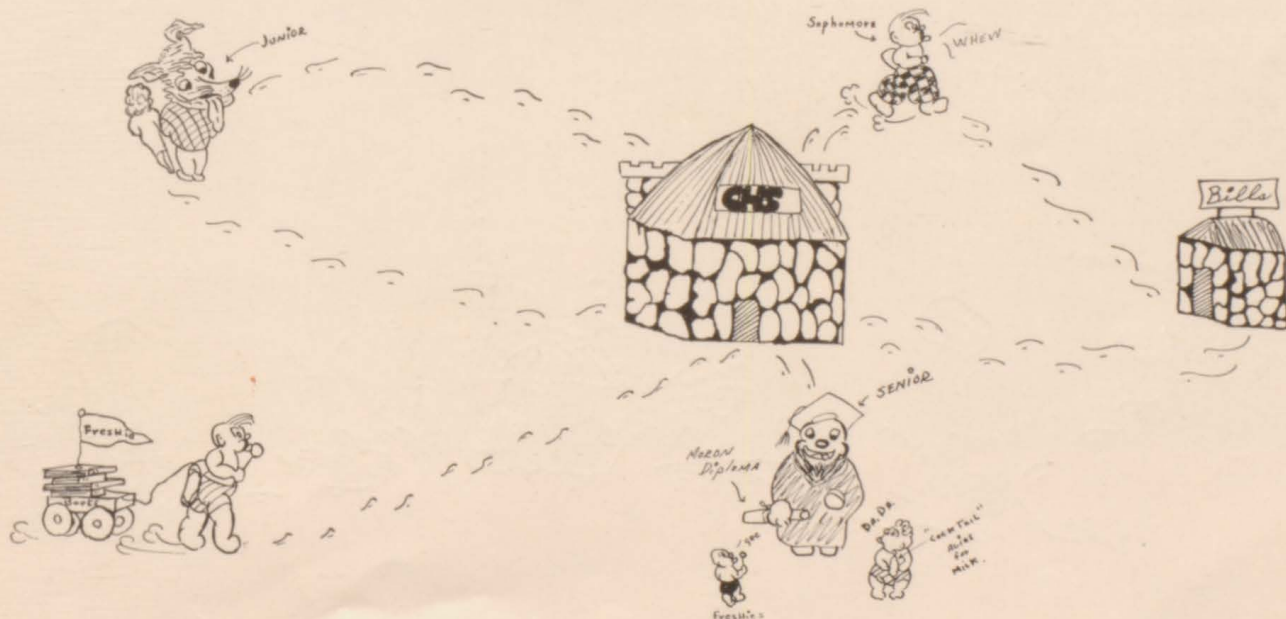

"Hey, you're taking Dot to the Prom? I hope you have enough dough if we have the prom at the Astor Roof."

"Hey freshie, come here. Looking for something? Room 402? Oh, say, in Central the large numbers start in the basement. Go right downstairs for 402."

"You can get an elevator pass. One special to you for a quarter."

"I hope no girls hook him for fifty cents. You can't ever trust them, they are wolfish."

"But we love 'em just the same."

Recollections

• Our memories of Junior High are rather faint, except in one respect. We could hardly wait to get in and then couldn't wait till we got out.

Then the Annex! A world of females, with an occasional thorn here and there. Bookkeeping, shorthand, and typing were introduced to us. The teachers did their best. At first it seemed as though they were pulling hen's teeth. Their senses were restored when our surprising abilities surpassed their expectations. We attended as many games and dances as we possibly could at the Main Building. All during the year at the Annex we looked forward eagerly to the possibilities and adventure that were waiting "within the Four Towers."

Finally Juniors! and really in Central High School, at last! We were in the midst of the masculine element—short, tall, fat, and thin, there wasn't any male shortage here! They captured our hearts and all the class offices. As leaders of our group they guided us in selecting our class rings, the design of which was different from any other—military style, with an artistic engraving surrounding the stone. The center holds the Central shield and on either side of the band the date of THE GREAT EVENT 19-45.

Our football team, with us enthusiastically urging them on, won its way to second place in the City League. This was the year!

Our goal reached! Seemingly overnight we had blossomed from unknown freshmen to dignified seniors. We hope you weren't frightened when you saw the year book staff rushing through the corridors. They had a deadline to meet! Their work was not in vain, as our year book is the latest outstanding addition to the previous editions of the Cog'n'Pen. Class day has come, and gone, offering us the opportunity of telling certain individuals what we thought of them—with no interference. Our senior prom! What a night that was on every girl's calendar. At last on that glorious eve of January 23, 1945, we received our diplomas for which we gave four years of hard labor. As the history of this world is recorded in books, so may that of our class, January 1945, be recorded in this our book of memories.

Sidelines

*Up each mornin' early in the dawn,
His quiet room resounding with a'wakening yawn,
Not in a flash, but in just two-seconds flat,
His special B & L chart shows him where he's at.
Going to the kitchen at the stroke of seven,
Coffee, toast and butter—boy! he's in heaven.
A quick look at the morning news, an uncalled for delay,
Then he's on the rush again to start a teacher's day.
Twenty minutes 'fore eight, riding on a bus,
He's marking homework papers without too much o' fuss.
A "Roman" eye to start with, a steady hand to boot,
Cause him to finish quickly an' all the marks to shoot
Into his record book, quite torn from constant wear,
He hardly ever finishes before he gets right there.
His lively stride and steady pace soon get him to his room,
Where he 'mediately prepares a talk, an' not at all too soon.
The "chickens and their feed" is all a class may hear,
For this is all he talks of, when anyone is near.
A plug for his B & L, just a little word,
Then back again to "Chicken and feed," somethin' that we've heard.
Morning sessions over, noon time coming near,
His main idea of getting by is just a glass of milk.
The final bell is ringing, his hat and coat are on,
Before the clock shows ten to three, he's already gone.
Insurance policies in his hand, brushes on his back,
He sells, not for a living, just some extra jack.
Home in time for supper, a speech prepared for ten,
Leaves at seven-thirty, "Insurance man" again.
At ten he's at a meeting—his good ol' B & L,
His speech he is reading—boy, it sounds like insurance.
Eleven-thirty finds him home, none the worse for wear,
One foot's on the farm now—the other'll soon be there.
As the midnight hour reaches its final roar,
The quiet room resounds with a healthy snore.*

To Our Alma Mater

Words by
MARIE FIORILLI

To be spoken.

It seems just yesterday we came to you—
With our ambitions. Now our goal's attained.
But joy and sadness mingle in our thoughts
Of four sweet years of friends and knowledge gained.
We think of you, beloved Alma Mater,
As we leave these cherished walls behind;
Dear to our hearts will you be forever;
Your image ever in our hearts enshrined.

To be sung by the class.

Dear Central, we love you;
Love you, dear Lady on the Hill.
Dear Central, we say farewell;
Mem'ries of you will linger still.

Alma Mater, we leave you;
Leave you with sadness in our hearts.
Alma Mater, we say farewell;
Our love will say tho' we depart.

Within your towers tall, four square, and crowned with clouds,
We laughed, toiled, studied, loved, and fought.
From your windows as we gazed, the world lay at our feet;
And now we're leaving you, and go that world to meet.
Decades from now when we are old and gray,
When other footsteps echo through your halls,
We'll still recall the joyous times we had—
Things we shall remember 'til God calls.

Dear Central, we love you;
Love you, dear Lady on the Hill.
Dear Central, we say farewell;
Mem'ries of you will linger still.

Alma Mater, we leave you;
Leave you with sadness in our hearts.
Alma Mater, we say farewell;
Our love will stay tho' we depart.

Music by
ANTHONY ZAZZARINO

Andante

The musical score is written for voice and piano. It begins with a vocal line on a single staff, followed by piano accompaniment on grand staves. The tempo is marked Andante. The key signature is one flat (B-flat major or D minor). The score consists of four systems. The piano accompaniment features a variety of textures, including octaves in the right hand and bass lines with triplets and chords in the left hand. The vocal line is melodic and expressive, with some phrasing slurs. The piece concludes with a final chord in the piano.

Our Will

• We, the class of January '45, in order to establish firmly our bonds of friendship at Central High School, and to conclude a four-year period of good companionship with the hope that pleasant memories will attend our going, do hereby declare this to be our Last Will and Testament.

Article I

Special bequests:

To MR. RALSTON: As nice a class of freshman as ever came to Central.

To MR. MCCracken: A simplified system for arranging schedules.

To MISS GORDON: A beautiful new set of text books to replace the "Ancient Relics."

To MR. HEIGES: A capable secretary.

To MISS WARD: The Du Barry Success course.

To MRS. WRIGHT: A new window pole.

To MRS. KNOWLES: Pupils interested in part-time jobs.

To MISS ALLEN: A warm classroom.

To MISS PALMER: A megaphone.

To MR. HONAN: A paper doll pattern.

To MR. DEADY: Volts, Watt!

To MR. STRANG: The Brooklyn Dodgers.

To MR. COLEMAN: Chickens and roosters.

To MISS MOONEY: An attentive class.

To MR. ROWAN: Romance—with a capital R.

To MR. CONOVITZ: A set of A's to be used liberally on Seniors' reports.

To MR. SKOLNIK: Figures and respect.

To MRS. HOPPER: Perspectives and prospectives.

To MISS JONES: House foundations and cement.

To MISS MITCHELL: Chaucer and the Anglo Saxons.

To MR. RITTENBAND: The band and a whistle to our boogie-woogie sweater boy.

Article II

We simply could not go without leaving:

To THE CHEMISTRY LAB: A bottle of "Air-Wick."

To THE HEALTH DEPARTMENT: A real live baby.

To THE LUNCHROOM: A juke box.

To THE BOYS: The girls' lockers for their curiosity.

To THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT: New Term Projects.

To THE BIOLOGY DEPARTMENT: A new skeleton.

Article III

Every member in this "Union of Knowledge" shall take with him the fondest moment in his four-year stretch and carry it as his memory of Central High School.

Article IV

Lastly, we nominate, constitute, and appoint our advisers, Miss Hough and Mr. Schleicher, executors of this, our Last Will and Testament.

In Witness whereof We have signed our name and affixed our seal this twenty-third day of January, 1945.

CLASS OF JANUARY, 1945.

"On the fields of friendly strife are sown the seeds which in other years on other fields will bear the fruits of victory."

Sports Resumé

• Looking back over our four years at Central, we find the quality of Central's teams on a definite up-swing. On the gridiron our '41 football team was tough opposition to every team it played. It had a record of three games won, one tied, and four lost. The next year, with most of the key men lost by graduation, a fighting Central team composed mostly of Sophomores lost all its games. In '43 a new leaf was turned over. With the capable leadership of Coach Hilly H. Wisot, and assistant Coach Joe Paradise, a Central player of former years, our team of experienced veterans lost only the West Side and Nutley games, and advanced to second place in the City League.

Our football team in '44 started their season by rolling over Nutley and Barringer to the tune of 26-0 and 14-0. Hopes are high, and talk of City and State Titles is heard.

In the pool as well as on the gridiron our boys gave a good account of themselves. Under the coaching and guidance of William H. Bauer, our swimming team finished second in the City League race in '41. In '42 and again in '43 they won the city championship. During these years our team was far ahead of its nearest competitor in the city.

With a basketball in their hands and the Central spirit in their hearts, our basketball team fought their way into the state tournament in '43 and '44. During the '44 season a well drilled squad under Henry P. Finck climbed to the semi-final round in the state tournament, only to be beaten there by Thomas Jefferson High School in a game that had our hearts in our throats.

Under Coach Sol Fleischman our Cross Country boys in '41 and '42 sped over hill and dale to two consecutive second places in the City League. In '42 our boys won a trophy in a National Meet at Seton Hall where schools from all over the country were represented. In '43 our team, with a squad depleted by graduation and enlistment, took third place in the City League.

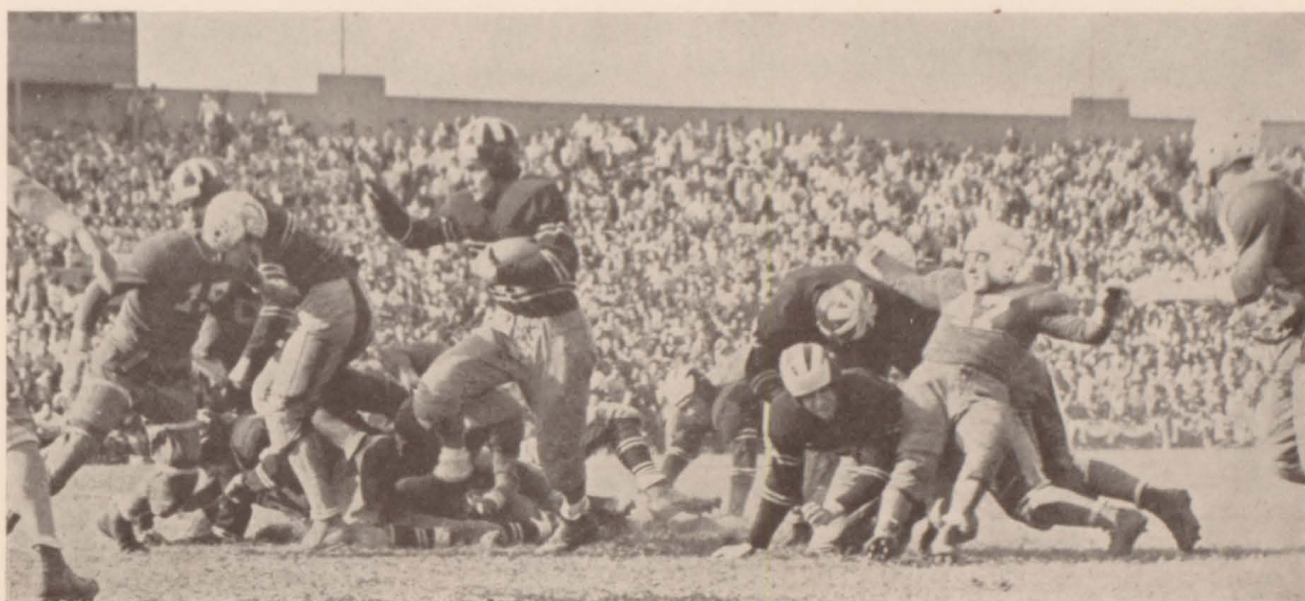

During the past three years the baseball team has had three coaches. With limited practice facilities and uncertainties as to coaches, we produced teams that will never be looked down upon by Centralites.

Zack Sosnow, a new member of our Physical Education Department, took over the coaching runs in '43 and produced a better than fair team.

As we look back at the records of these Central teams, we can proudly say that Central has what it takes.

All Out for Victory!

In these challenging days, requiring the utmost effort of every one of us to bring a complete victory to our country and a lasting peace to the world, the educational front—like the battle front and the production front—plays a vital role.

The year book today has a new and powerful motif: to reflect the school in war time.

Likewise, the year book today has a richer meaning than ever before: it is engraved with memories of friends and classmates who will be setting forth to all the fronts.

You rightfully expect a year book that will hold a proud place in the annals of your school, and for these reasons we dedicate our trained skills, our modern plant, and our experienced services to the fulfillment of your most discriminating requirements.
